INARF also offers members a variety of opportunities to be actively involved in the development and direction of the Association through its Corporate Committee structure. Current Corporate Committees include: Board Development, Finance, Governmental Affairs, Membership Development, and Organizational Development.

Through an active and vibrant structure of Professional Interest Sections, INARF offers members regular opportunities to learn, share information and develop common solutions. Current Professional Interest Sections include: Business & Industry, Child/Family Services, Community Supports, Employment Supports, Financial Management, and Human Resources.

INARF supports learning and professional development among our members by offering educational programming on relevant, timely topics. Our programs – targeted for all levels of members' staff – are designed to develop, improve and expand the direct services which member agencies provide to Indiana's citizens with disabilities. INARF members enjoy discounted pricing on educational programs.
