Re: Objective Based Allocations

Date: January 22, 2014

In an effort to better explain the Objective Based Allocation (OBA) process that is utilized by the Bureau of Developmental Disabilities (BDDS), the Division of Disability and Rehabilitative Services (DDRS) has posted a guide entitled "Objective Based Allocation, Assessment and Algo Development" to the DDRS Announcements page. The Division would like to thank its stakeholders who participated in the development of this guide to ensure that all individuals and families receiving services have a clearer understanding of the OBA process.
